

Our CSA program is structured to meet the needs of its members.

We offer a variety of options to suit families of every size and taste. At Wayward Seed, we've become known for rare and hard-to-find heritage varieties, but we also grow familiar family staples such as lettuce, carrots, onions and potatoes.

1 Choose the size of vegetable share that suits you.

- One person share – $13 a week – vegetables for one or a nice gift for a healthy eater.
- Two person share – $24 a week – for a single vegetarian, two adults or a very busy family of three.
- Four person share – $37 a week – vegetables for a family of four or a smaller family who cans for the winter.

2 Then choose the frequency.

- Weekly June 5th – November 20th, a weekly pick up, equaling 25 shares, at a location to be determined.
- Bi-Weekly June 5th – November 20th, an every other week pick up, equaling 12 shares, at a location to be determined.
- Peak season July 31st – October 16th, a weekly pick up, equaling 12 shares, at a location to be determined.

3 Supplements

As a service to members of our vegetable share, a supplemental fruit share may be purchased.

- One person – $9 a week – enough fruit for one person, usually not large enough for canning.
- Two person share – $16 a week – fruit for two people, enough for baking or canning.
- Four person share – $22 a week – fruit for four people, baking, canning, preserves and more.

Fruit share frequency:

- Weekly June 12th – October 23rd, a weekly pick up, equaling 20 shares, at a location to be determined.
- Bi-Weekly June 12th – October 23rd, an every other week pick up, equaling 10 shares, at a location to be determined.

In addition to fruits and vegetables, our goal is to provide our CSA members with a complete selection of kitchen staples, all supplied by local producers. We don't yet have all the details, but we'll say this: think milk, cheese and butter, among others.

- Please notify me when these items become available.

What is CSA? Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) is a community of individuals who share both the responsibility and reward of a local farm. The farmers receive the benefit of a stable market, and its members receive the benefit of clean, safe, locally grown food. A true CSA has the value of community-building at its core. At Wayward Seed, our members receive more than a share in the farm's bounty—they receive a renewed connection with their food and the peace of mind that comes with knowing its origin.

I would like $ _____ charged to my account beginning the month of _____ on the _____ of each month for _____ months. (For example, if your total was $500, you may request $100 deducted from your account on the 1st of each month for 5 months.)

As a CSA member, you share in the responsibility and the reward of a local farm. CSA membership allows you to forge a connection with your food and the farm where it's produced. As such, The Wayward Seed Farm CSA membership is a season long commitment. It is your responsibility to know the date, time and location for pickup of your share. The farm is unable to issue credit for unclaimed or forgotten shares. If you are unable to finish the season as a member, for whatever reason, you are more than welcome to reassign your share to another household.
